Standards-Based IEP Development

Linking IEP goals to Missouri state standards is not a new development in special education, but a requirement. The Individuals with Disabilities Education Improvement Act (IDEA 2004) and the Elementary and Secondary Education Act (No Child Left Behind Act of 2001 - NCLB) are intended to provide students with disabilities greater access to the general education curriculum. A standards-based IEP incorporates state content standards at the student's enrolled grade level.

After completion of this workshop, participants should be able to:

- Write a rough draft IEP goal based on content standards,
- Distinguish standards-based IEP goals from other types of goals, and
- Reference a 7 step process for writing standards-based IEPs.
